Welcome to Community Memorial Hospital.

We know that meeting your health care needs requires trust between you and the people taking care of you. As a patient of Community Memorial Hospital, our goal is to protect your rights. You also have responsibilities. Knowing them will help you to make choices about your care that is best for you. Your rights and responsibilities can be read to you in a language you best understand. If you are not able to make choices for yourself, your legal representative may do so on your behalf.

You have the right to be treated with kindness

You have the right to have treatment. You will be treated with respect and worth regardless of your:

o Age

Race
The country where you came from

Religion

Beliefs

Language

Physical and/or mental status

Sex (Male or Female)

Sexual orientation

Gender identity or expression

Type of sickness

If you are able to pay for your care

You have the right to know the names and duties of all the people involved in your care. Staff should:

Tell you their name.

Tell you their role in your care.

Give you their work phone number and address when asked.

You have the responsibility to treat others with kindness

It is important to treat others with the same respect and value that you would want for yourself and your family. This includes other patients, their visitors, staff and providers who are giving you care. In the health care environment, you can do this by:

No loud voices.

No foul language/swearing.

Limit the number of guests visiting you at one time.

- Keep a quiet environment when guests are visiting.
- Use your T.V., radio, phones as you need, but quietly.
- Use your lights in your room only as needed.
- Being considerate of your roommate.

You have the right to privacy

Your personal privacy is an important part of your care. We will respect your privacy during:

- Your exams.

- Your talks with your provider and staff.

While you are a CMH patient, you have the right to:

- Have a person of your same sex in the room with you during certain parts of an exam or care.

- Close the curtain around your bed.

- Close your door for privacy.

- Respect and privacy during bathing and/or other cares.

- Ask for no guests to visit you.

- Ask for your status to be confidential.

- Privacy of your:

  - Mail

  - Phone calls

  - E-mails

- Have staff knock on the door and ask to come into your room.

Your privacy rights may be limited in certain situations, such as if there is a crisis or if the staff is quickly needed.

You have the responsibility to respect the privacy of others

We ask that you be caring of other patients. Give them privacy and a quiet environment.

You have the right to confidentiality

Your information is confidential. We will respect your privacy when talking about your health/medical care.

Your health care record and financial information will be read:

- Only by the health care team involved in your care.

- For health care daily work.

- For billing and insurance reasons.

As health care providers, we are legally required to report information to state and federal agencies. This information may include, but is not limited to:

- Harm after a crime

- Suspected abuse and neglect

- Public health concerns

The law also permits us to release your health care information in certain situations, such as an emergency.

Otherwise, you must give your permission before your information will be released.

You have the responsibility to respect the confidentiality of others

We ask that you respect the privacy of other patients and families. It is not right to:

- Look into other patient rooms.

- Ask staff for information about other patients.

- Ask staff why a person/patient is here at CMH.

You have the right to information about your treatment

Your diagnosis and proposed treatment will be explained to you in terms and language that you can understand. You may have family members or friends included in this discussion.

You can expect your doctor to explain:

- Your diagnosis.

- Other choices for care or treatment.

- The risks and benefits for each of these choices.

- Likely outcomes.

As a CMH patient, you can expect:

- Information about pain and pain relief measures.

- Staff commitment to pain prevention and pain management.

- Staff who will listen and respond to your reports of pain.

You also have the right to receive copies of your medical records within a reasonable time frame.

You have the responsibility to ask for clear explanations

If you do not understand your medical problem and/or your treatment plan is not clear to you, you must tell your health care team. You are responsible for asking questions if you do not understand. You should ask:

- Why is this treatment suggested?

- What other choices do I have?

- What might be the results of this treatment?

- Is this treatment new and/or experimental?

- How long will this treatment take?

- What will this treatment cost?

- What are the risks of this treatment?

- What are the side effects of this treatment?

- What are the credentials of the person providing this treatment?

When you and your doctor agree on the best treatment for you, it is important that you follow this plan.

- Partial treatment may not help you.

- If you cannot follow the treatment plan, you need to tell a staff member.

You have the right to make decisions about your care

We value the partnership between you and your caregivers. We want you to have an active role in your own healthcare.

We respect your right to:

- Choose your provider.

- Communicate with your provider.

- Give informed consent after you receive a clear explanation of:

  - Your disease.

  - The risks and benefits of the treatment and other options you may choose.

- Ask for the right care.

- Not be transferred to another facility. The exception to this is:

  - If you were given a complete explanation for the transfer need.

  - If you were given other options to the transfer.

- A prompt response to your questions and requests.

- Give your consent or decline to be a part of research studies.

- Refuse a diagnostic procedure or treatment.

  - Be told of what may happen if you refuse the procedure or treatment.

- Consult with a different specialist.

  - This may be at your own cost.

- Help to develop and carry out your plan of care.

  - Have your spiritual and/or cultural needs met. If these needs may impact your care, you will need to tell your doctor and/or the staff taking care of you.

- Know of any professional relationship that may exist between:

  - Your doctor

  - Community Memorial Hospital

  - Other institutions

  - Other doctors

State law may require the consent of a relative or legal guardian if you are:

  - Under the age of 18

  - Unconscious

  - Too ill to give informed consent

You may be treated without consent if:

  - There is a medical emergency.

  - Immediate action must be taken for your well-being.

You have the responsibility to make informed decisions

You are responsible for the decisions you make about your care. We encourage you to gather as much information about your illness as you can. This will help you to make an informed decision.

You may be asked to sign a written consent for certain tests and/or procedures.

Make sure you understand each document that you are asked to sign.

If you change your mind or refuse treatment:

Tell the staff right away.

Talk to your doctor about your concerns and/or reasons.

You have a right to develop an Advance Directive

Advance Directives are written instructions for a patient's health care in the event he or she is unable to make or communicate decisions. As part of an Advance Directive, a patient may choose someone to make health care decisions on his or her behalf.

An Advance Directive may also be known as or include a:

Living Will.

Health Care Directive.

Power of Attorney for Health Care.

You have the right to:

Information about Advance Directives.

Prepare an Advance Directive.

Have staff follow your wishes as stated in your Advance Directive:

To the degree permitted by state law.

To the extent medically appropriate.

Subject to limitations on the basis of conscience or other reason permitted by state law.

I.C.A. § 144A.8, I.C.A. § 144B.9, N.D.C.C. § 23-06.5-09, N.D.C.C. § 23-06.5-12, M.S.A. § 145B.06, M.S.A. §145C.11, M.S.A. § 145C.15, S.D.C.L. § 34-12D-12, S.D.C.L. § 34-12D-19 may be referenced for further details.

CMH's policy is to follow a patient's Advance Directive once we have knowledge of its contents and the extent to which it is consistent with the law and reasonable standards of medical practice. If a provider cannot honor an Advance Directive, the option of transferring the patient's care to another provider who will comply with the patient's wishes must be discussed.

You are not required to have an Advance Directive. CMH will not condition care or discriminate against you based on whether or not you have an Advance Directive.

If you have an Advance Directive, you have a responsibility to:

- Give your provider a current copy of your Advance Directive.

- Talk with the person you have selected as your decision maker about your wishes for your care.

You have the right to personal property

You have the right to have your personal items with you. You may keep your personal items with you at all times unless:

- There is not enough space for you to keep them.

- Due to medical reasons, you cannot have them.

You have the responsibility to secure your valuables

It is your responsibility to make sure that your valuables are secured at all times.

Things that are considered valuable are (but are not limited to):

- Hearing aids

- Dentures or partial dentures

- Eyeglasses

- Jewelry

- Cell phones

Do not leave your valuables where they may be mistakenly disposed of. Examples of this include (but are not limited to):

- Bedside table

- Meal tray

- Your hospital bed

Community Memorial Hospital does not accept financial responsibility if you choose to keep your personal items with you.

You have the right to safe care

Our goal is to have a safe and comfortable environment for you while you are a patient at CMH.

We respect your right to:

- Have care and services that are within professional standards of practice.
- Medical and personal health care based on your own individual needs.

  - This right may be limited if your care is not paid by public or private resources.

- Be cared for in a safe environment.

- Be free from being restrained or secluded (separation from others) unless needed for safety reasons.

- Freedom from maltreatment (abuse or neglect).

- Not be given medication you do not need.

- Have the least amount of restrictions to achieve the goals of your treatment plan.

- Be cared for by the same staff members who know about you and your plan of care.

- Be told what you need to do if there is an emergency.

- Expect reasonable continuity of care when you no longer need to be in the hospital and need care after discharge.

You have the responsibility to:

- Give correct and complete information about your:

  - Health history.

  - Medications.

  - Treatments.

- Tell your doctor or person caring for you, about any changes in your health status.

- Tell your doctor or the person caring for you about pain you are having.

- Keep your appointments for your follow-up care.

  - If you need to cancel or reschedule, give plenty of notice.

- Follow the treatment plans given to you.

- Follow CMH policies that may affect patient care and conduct, such as:

  - Restrictions in the use of tobacco and/or cigarettes.

  - Dietary limits.

  - Visiting policies.

- Tell us of any safety concerns you may have.

You have the right to know about your bill

You have the right to:

Be told of the services that are included in your daily room charge. This information will be available before you are admitted and/or during your stay.

Information for services that are an added charge will also be available.

CMH will help you get information about:

The expected payments for your care from:

Medicare.

Medicaid.

A third-party payer.

What you may be expected to pay.

Have your total bill explained to you no matter how your bill is being paid.

You may call Patient Billing Services at (605) 775-2621.

You can request an itemized bill from them.

As a Community Memorial Hospital patient, you have a responsibility to:

Know your insurance coverage policy.

Know your financial responsibility.

Pay your bill.

Give CMH the correct insurance information.

CMH will bill your health insurance company.

You are responsible for paying what is not covered by your insurance.

Community Memorial Hospital has a financial assistance policy. This program gives discounted or free care to a patient that meets the eligibility rules. To find out more information, you can:

Call Patient Billing Services (605) 775-2621

You also have the right to:

Have a family member or other representative, and your provider told promptly of your admission to CMH, if you so desire.

Have visitors whom you choose for emotional support during your stay.

This can include, but is not limited to your:

- Husband or wife

- Domestic partner (including a same sex domestic partner)

- Family member

- Friend

CMH may need to limit visitation. This is to protect the health, safety, or privacy of you or others.

Withdraw or deny visitation consent at any time.

Reasonable access at reasonable times to protection or advocacy (support) services.

Refuse to do services for the facility unless the activities are included for a therapeutic purpose.

Telephone and mail communication.

Exercise all civil rights. This includes the right to habeas corpus (hey-bee-uhs kawr-puh s). This is defined as a protection from illegal confinement (being held against your will).

Routine opportunities for outdoor physical activity. This is only if your health issue allows. Participate in the religious worship of your choice.

Be told of the policies and practices that relate to:

- Patient care

- Treatment

- Responsibilities

CMH will not discriminate or retaliate against you (treat you badly) for using your rights. All rights expressed in this booklet are for all patients regardless of:

- Age

- Race

- The country where you came from

- Religion

- Beliefs/Culture

- Language

- Physical and/or mental status

- How much money you make/what you do for a living

- Sex

- Sexual orientation

- Gender identity or expression

For patients who are local, state, or federal prisoners, certain rights may not apply to you.

Concerns about Your Care:

You have the right to voice your complaints and request a written response. CMH will not retaliate or discriminate against anyone who has a complaint about his or her care.
